Shooting Comes High, So Tinley Man Discovers

A Tinley Park man, Jerry Friel, has discovered that there are cheaper places in which to shoot a rifle than on private property and in a game refuge. The discovery came the hard way—in a justice of the peace court at Joliet.

Friel was one of three men in a canoe on the I. & M. Canal near Channahon last week but instead of paddling, he was firing a rifle.

Steve Ritoff of Channahon, signed complaints against Friel and his two companions. Ritoff charged that several of the bullets came too close for comfort.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Anthony Mackay, Friel was fined $100 and costs, the latter coming to $15.

A $25 fine plus costs was levied against Daniel McGowan, 740 S. Cedar road, New Lenox. He did not have a gun, Mackay said.

The third man, John Spaulding, of Lockport, was successful in getting the charges against him dismissed.

HOME ON LEAVE—Ramon Gunhouse, a navy photographer, of Mokena, is now home on leave. This time he came accompanied by his bride. Mrs. Gunhouse (Lory) is from Italy.

Six Suffer Minor Hurts In 2-Car Crash

Six persons suffered what were described as minor injuries as a result of a two-car collision on U.S. 45 a short distance north of U.S. 30 near Frankfort, Monday morning.

State Trooper Earl Cantone ticketed one of the drivers, Herman Barlewort, of Frankfort, charging him with failure to give a signal and making an improper turn. The Frankfort man is alleged to have turned left into the path of a southbound car driven by John Martin, of Madisonville, Ky. Barlewort was driving north on U.S. 45.

There were five persons in Martin's car, his wife, Dixie, their daughter, Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Caltes.

All were taken to Silver Cross hospital, where they underwent x-ray examination, received emergency treatment and were released.

On Saturday, June 30 they marched in the Golden Jubilee parade in Hazelcrest and were awarded the first place award. July 4th they entered the Fiesta parade in Mokena and again received first place.

The group is sponsored by the Bobzin-Swinford Post of Frankfort. Mr. Kenneth Brown of Frankfort is their manager with Mr. Thomas Geary of Mokena as his assistant. Mr. Norman Sippel from Bradley is their trainer.

At this time there are nine girls in the color guard but they are looking for additional members. They would like to compete at the American Legion state convention in the fall but the requirement for state competition is a minimum of thirteen color guards. Any girl who would enjoy being a part of this group may call Thomas Geary at Mokena 5250.

L-W Industrial Arts Dept. Gets High Rating

An explanation as to the award won by the Lincoln-Way high school's department of industrial education at the 1962 regional exhibit at Illinois State Normal university was contained in a letter of congratulation recently received at the school from Frank E. Sharkey, general chairman of the affair.

The Lincoln-Way exhibits received the second place Level III Sweepstakes Award. The Level III Sweepstakes Award, Mr. Sharkey explained, is presented annually to two high school industrial education programs in central Illinois that have exhibited student - constructed projects of exceptional design and craftsmanship.

"Under the skillful guidance of your industrial education faculty," he said, "the students of Lincoln-Way high school have demonstrated thoroughly that ability, effort, patience and perseverance can result in outstanding craftsmanship and learning opportunities."

Will Vote On Mokena Fire Protection Dist. Saturday

Residents of the proposed Mokena fire protection district are to vote on its organization at a special referendum to be held this Saturday, July 14.

There will be three polling places and they will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The first precinct is made up of the village of Mokena and the village hall on Front street is to serve as the polling place.

The second precinct is comprised of all the territory in the Frankfort township portion of the proposed district outside of the village of Mokena. The polling place will be Mancke's garage at 189th and Wolf road.

The polling place for the third voting district will be in the basement of Maue school, 179th street and 108th avenue and will serve those voters residing in Orland and Homer townships whose property is located within the confines of the proposed district.

The ballot calls for a simple yes or no vote.

The north boundary of the proposed district is 167th street. The east line is U.S. 45 south from 167th to Section 3. There the line extends east to about the middle of Section 3, and continuing to 191st street, when U.S. 45 again becomes the east boundary. (Arbury Hills is in the Frankfort Fire Protection District.)

The south line of the proposed Mokena district is approximately the line followed by Hickory creek, which is the north line of the Frankfort district.

The Mokena district would extend to the boundaries of the New Lenox fire district and the east line of Homer township and there are some parcels of land included that lie in Orland township.

The DesPlaines Valley association of volunteer fire departments, of which Mokena is a member, is urging voters to approve the fire protection district.

The growth of the area is progressing steadily and it is becoming increasingly difficult for volunteer departments to operate on a donation basis.

It was pointed out that it was necessary now for a department to have an income on which it could rely instead of depend upon public donations.

Advocates of the fire protection district say that the tax it can levy is small but it covers all property owners and thus place support of the department upon an equitable basis.

In Summer Institute

William Schwab, R.R. 1, Mokena, a science consultant, Illinois State Department of Education, Springfield, has been selected to participate in the Summer Institute for Secondary School Science Consultants, Supervisors, and Department Heads to be held July 8 to Aug. 3 at Indiana University, Bloomington.

The Institute program is planned to acquaint the participants with new developments in teaching of both the biological and physical sciences, with special emphasis on laboratory methods recommended by the national science curriculum studies sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Mokena C. of C. Hails Fiesta Days As Success

The Mokena Chamber of Commerce Fiesta Days were so successful they will be repeated next year, according to Will Tuttle, general chairman, and it is the hope of the Chamber they will become an annual affair.

A big parade on the Fourth of July drew several thousand spectators and those in charge put the attendance at the fireworks display in Community park that night at some 3,000.

The program began June 30 with a public auction on Front street and wound up with the fireworks show on the Fourth.

The auction was a popular event that attracted more than a thousand persons. The Chamber of Commerce gave out free lunch to more than 800 persons prior to the opening of the auction and there were many who attended the sale who did not partake of the free food. The public was invited to bring any item to the sale they wished to sell and received 90 per cent of the price it brought. The Chamber retained 10 per cent of the sales price to take care of expenses for promoting Fiesta Days. Edward Schmaedeke, a professional auctioneer from Orland Park, was in charge of the sale.

Approximately 12,000 votes were cast in the Fiesta Queen contest which was won by Gayle Harling, whose entry was sponsored by the Tuttle Electric Co. Runners up were Carol Muehler and Sherill Hearn. There were 10 entries in the queen contest.

The winner was announced at the park the night of the Fourth and the crowning ceremony followed.

Man Critically Burned In Flash Fire At Orland

Three men were burned, one of them critically, in a flash fire that destroyed one house and damaged another in Orland Park Hills last Thursday (July 5) afternoon.

The fire started shortly after 1:30 o'clock and within minutes was out of control.

The three workmen inside the house when the blaze swept thru the rooms fled, of course, but were unable to move fast enough to escape hurt.

Worst burned is James Wallace, 30, of Melrose Park. He is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, with second and third degree burns over 60 per cent of his body, according to Orland Park firemen who rushed him to the hospital. His condition is reported as critical and he is in need of special duty nurses around the clock but none were available on Tuesday. Any registered nurses who will take the case are asked to call Mrs. Don Walsh at Fieldbrook 9-3078.

His companions, Durward Wallace, 21, of Stone Park, and Robert Scott, 39, 5310 Evergreen ave., Chicago, were more fortunate. They suffered some burns but after treatment at Silver Cross hospital were released.

The trio had been employed to clean the floors of mastic cement in a house at 10136 Huntington court. The house was vacant and is in the hands of Braun and Aldridge, developers of Orland Park Hills.

Orland Park Fire Chief Arthur Granat said Monday that he had talked with the three men and that they told him they had been using gasoline as a solvent to remove the cement. The three were the only occupants of the house and none of them was smoking, they stated. It is believed the pilot light to the furnace or the hotwater heater ignited the fumes. Gasoline fumes and air make a highly explosive mixture and when it exploded the whole interior of the house almost immediately burst into flame.

Altho firemen were at the scene quickly the fire had gained so much headway that it could not be controlled.

The flames spread to the house next door, at 10140 Huntington Ct., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bechtold, but firemen were able to confine the damage there to the exterior west wall. Some flame did lick thru a louver in the peak of the gable and scorched some of the roof rafters but firemen said there was no water damage to the interior and little damage from smoke. The Bechtolds were away on vacation at the time.

The house owned by the developers was described by firemen as a total loss. There are walls standing but they cannot be used, it was said, and will have to be taken down.

Kladis Will Be After 3rd Straight Win Saturday

Daring Danny Kladis, the kingpin of Joliet midjet auto racing thus far this season, will be bidding for his third straight feature victory at Joliet Memorial Stadium Saturday night.

Kladis, 45-year-old Chicago veteran, delighted his fans by scoring a triple—victories in his heat race, the handicap and feature race—last Saturday. It was his second such accomplishment this year, and in winning the 25-lap feature he came within 1.06 seconds of matching the record he set in that event while gaining his first triple May 5.

In posting his third feature triumph, Kladis probably surpassed his chief rival, Ray Elliott of Lockport, in the United Auto Racing Association point standings. Before last Saturday, Elliott was leading Kladis 1,183 points to 1,160. The UARA standings include midjet placings at such tracks as Aurora Downs and Santa Fe and Illiana Speedways as well as Joliet.

Elliott, who finished second to Kladis in both the handicap and feature races last week, will again be out for his second feature win while Johnny Riva of DesPlaines, who returned to the Stadium last Saturday after a month-long absence, will try for his third. Other prominent drivers in the running will be Russ Palombo of Hillside, Warren Scheibe of Blue Island, Gene Varling of Oak Lawn, and Jolietans Dick Atkins, Russ Sweedler, Henry Pens, Bob Hauck and Bernie Wilhelm.

Saturday's program includes four heat races, a six-lap handicap, 15-lap semi-feature and 25-lap feature.

U.S. High Court Prayer Ruling Irks Congressman

Congressman Noah Mason, of the 14th district, an Illinois Republican, was stirred by the recent action of the U.S. supreme court in holding that a non-sectarian prayer recited in the New York public schools was unconstitutional.

Other recent court decisions also drew the fire of the Oglesby Republican and he made a speech to air his views.

This is the text of his speech:

MR. MASON, Mr. Speaker, as many of you people know, my name is Noah — N-O-A-H. My God-fearing Welsh mother gave the majority of her 13 children Bible names, and she gave us good coaching in the Bible and what it means. Because of that I am delighted to hear our Chaplain emphasize and reemphasize what God means in this Nation and what He ought to continue to mean. I have complimented him upon that fact, because if ever there was a time in the history of this Nation that we need the guidance of God it is now.

The majority of the members of our Supreme Court seem to have forgotten — or perhaps they deliberately ignore the fact — that this Nation was founded by God-fearing people who were seeking a place where they could serve God according to the dictates of their own conscience.

Monday, June 25, 1962, was a black Monday for all Christian people of the United States. On that day our packed Supreme Court rendered three decisions that might make every true believer resentful. They might well cause us to wonder what the future holds for our children.

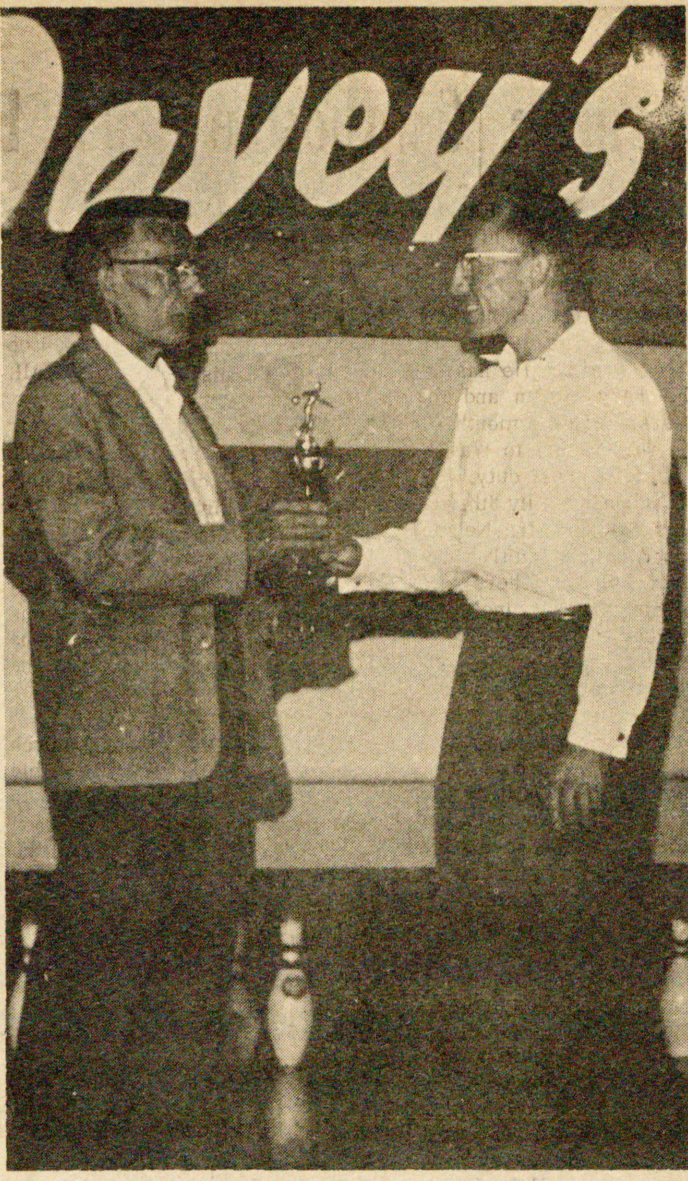

1. "The Court reversed the contempt proceedings against two self-confessed ex-Communists who had been questioned by a Congressional Committee investigating Communist infiltration into a union. (The union had been expelled by the C.I.O. in 1950 because it was Communist controlled.)

2. "On the same day the Supreme Court reversed its own 1957 ruling, a ruling which had banned from the U.S. mails three magazines that catered to sexual smut and homosexuals. In protest against this reversal, Justice Clark said: "The majority of this Court now require the United States Post Office to be the world's largest disseminator of smut."

3. "And to top its day's performance, the Court by a vote of 6 to 1, outlawed the non-sectarian prayer recited in New York state's public schools: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Thus we now have a Court which — seemingly by design — has handed down decisions favoring Communists and a pro-Communist minority, and decisions very pleasing to the few atheists in our midst.

"The majority of our left-wing, politically — packed Supreme Court today seem to believe that it is their duty to interpret our laws not according to the provisions of the Constitution but according to what they think it ought to be from their own political standpoint.

Performing Arts

4-H Recreation Program Enlarged

The lively interest of 4-H Club members in the performing arts has resulted in steps being taken to enlarge this aspect of the 4-H Recreation program, according to T. W. Thompson, service director for the National 4-H Service Committee and a member of the national 4-H recreation development committee.

Already a new booklet has been published for use by local club leaders and members entitled "Skits and Stunts the 4-H Way." It was prepared by Joseph R. Cardenuto, extension recreation specialist, Pennsylvania State University, from material contributed by the 4-H leaders throughout the country.

The booklet touches on acting techniques, staging, audience participation, impromptu acts, and radio and television coaching.

Next year work on a new dramatics guide book is expected to get under way.

Additional aids for developing recreational activities are planned for the near future, according to Thompson. This fall, several favorite 4-H songs such as the Field Song, Plowing, 4-H Pastoral, Song of Health and Dreaming will be recorded in Chicago by the Iowa State University Singers. The records will be used in community programs, on the air and at 4-H meetings, said Thompson.

At a recent meeting in Chicago of the 4-H recreation development committee, headed by Arden Peterson, recreation specialist at the Michigan State University, considerable discussion was given to developing recreational leadership among 4-H members.

Illinois 4-H Clubs have produced some outstanding members in a wide range of recreational activities. Among them is Mary Jane Behrends, 19, who has just completed her sophomore year at the University of Illinois.

Miss Behrends was a 4-H

Club member in Petersburg, Menard County, and for the last six years has been a participant in 4-H Share-the-Fun festivals in local, county and state contests. She also is adept at sports, particularly swimming. In fact, she had such an excellent record in all phases of recreation that she wound up 1961 as state and national award winner in the national 4-H Recreation program.

While local and county 4-H leaders are training and encouraging young people in constructive use of leisure time, John Deere, the program sponsor, is cooperating by offering awards in various categories of recreational activities. Awards are made to clubs and to individuals, as well.

The top member in the state will be a delegate to the 1962 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago with expenses paid. He or she will then be eligible for one of six $400 college scholarships.

Why we call ourselves pipeliners of energy

Natural gas is too narrow a term to describe our business, even though it still accounts for more than three-fourths of our income. So is refined petroleum products—though we pump millions of barrels of motor fuels, fuel oils, and LPGases to the booming Midwest.

The right word is energy—energy to power and heat and light a growing America. As pipeliners of energy—we are always in search of new sources of energy, as well as new ways to move it, store it, supply it. Potential new forms of energy: liquid natural gas and gasified coal. Is It Too Much To Ask?

If you attended a Fourth of July celebration last week, or went to a community affair, or even if you attended a special program in this town in the last year, the chances are about 100 to 1 that some part of that activity was sponsored or supported by a local merchant.

It seems that every time an organization has an idea of raising funds for any purpose whatsoever, the first contributor they think of is the local merchant or businessman. In a majority of cases they get a gift for a door prize, five bucks or more, or perhaps a bag of groceries.

Although each organization only hits the merchant for a little contribution, usually once or twice a year, they do not realize that there are scores of organizations that do the same thing.

This newspaper deals with all the merchants of this community every week, year in and year out, we know their problems and we sympathize with them. We know that one of their major problems is the fact that the chairman of a club fund-raising committee will not hesitate one second to ask a local druggist for a cash or merchandise contribution for a club project, but the same chairman, acting as a shopper, will drive 25 miles out of town to buy an item the same druggist can sell cheaper.

We are not asking that community clubs stop asking merchants for help on their pet projects, for if it is a worthy cause, the merchants will be glad to do it. We only ask that you, as a club member, and good citizen, give your full support to the struggling local merchants who need your business.

Is that too much to ask?

Read 1 Corinthians 9:19-27

Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. (Matthew 16:24.)

One of the ways into which the cross leads us is the way of self-discipline, both physical and spiritual. "It is that discipline," writes Dr. James Reid, "which comes through the denial of bodily instincts and appetites. There can be no fitness either of body or spirit without self-discipline."

There is a young man whom I have known since he was a boy. He developed into a fine athlete, and achieved considerable success as a runner. When I talked with him about his fitness for his racing, he told me of the luxuries he avoided and of his abstention from all kinds of self-indulgence. Severe discipline was his secret of success.

We cannot be faithful witnesses for Christ unless we accept the necessary discipline. Ministers and laymen alike must discipline their minds and souls for the purpose of being at their best in living the Christian way of life.

PRAYER: Thou knowest, O Lord, that we want our body, mind and spirit to be useful instruments in Thy service. Grant us the power of self-mastery. Enable us to discipline ourselves so that we may be fit for Thy service. For Jesus' sake, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.
Cultivation of the spiritual life demands self-discipline.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

The Board of Directors of the Desplaines Valley Firemen's Mutual Aid Association would like the people of the Mokena area to know that the Association fully supports the Mokena Fire Departments bid to form a Fire Protection District.

The advantages of forming a district such as the one proposed are many. One advantage is that everyone would share the burden of fire protection equally instead of just a few. At the present time the Mokena department is entirely dependent on donations. With the proposed district, the tax would be less than what the individual family now donates in many cases.

For the past 35 years the Mokena fire department has served the people well and capably. It has grown with the community. Now when the department feels that another advancement in fire protection can be achieved, the people should give their full support to this effort.

The members of the Association sincerely hope that when the Saturday, July 14 vote is completed, the people will have shown their support for the Mokena Fire Department in the formation of a Fire Protection District.

Sincerely,
WM. H. MARKGRAF

LINCOLN-WAY SPLIT SHIFT

Dear Sir:

Beginning in September of 1963 something new will have been added at our Lincoln-Way High School and that is the "Lincoln-Way Split Shift" not by any means a new football play.

The "Lincoln-Way Split Shift" will have been brought about by the defeat of the Lincoln-Way Bond Referendum by citizens and parents of our various communities. As president of the Lincoln-Way High School Parent and Teachers Group, I feel it is my duty to inform and to prepare parents who have youngsters at the High School as freshies this year and for the coming years. I feel it is my duty to prepare parents for a very unpleasant situation that will be brought about by the split shift.

I am not too certain of the future plans at the High School. However, I believe it is safe to presume that there will be a division of students into two groups. One group will consist of freshmen and sophomores, and the other group will consist of juniors and seniors. If there is any advantage in one shift over the other, I would strongly recommend that the advantage be granted to the younger group for very obvious reasons.

As my daughter, who is the youngest of my three youngsters, will be a senior in the 1963-1964 school year, I have already begun to make plans for transportation. I have every reason to presume that transportation will be provided for only one shift, be it the morning or the afternoon shift, as the present budget will provide funds to run the school buses for only one shift; it would, therefore, make sense to benefit the younger students in this respect. On the other hand, the older students will find it necessary to provide their own transportation. My daughter having received her driver's license will drive, but to accomplish this it will be necessary that we in our family have a second car. It will become necessary to form car pools or to make arrangements for some students to ride with students who will have cars available for their use.

Parents of incoming freshies will have the choice of one of the two following alternatives:

1. The early shift, I must presume, will start classes at 7:00 A.M. This will mean that students for the early shift will have to arise between 5:30 and 6:00 A.M., particularly if they will be the younger students who will have to catch the school bus. The first shift will end at 12:00 noon, which will provide sufficient time for doing home assignments after school.

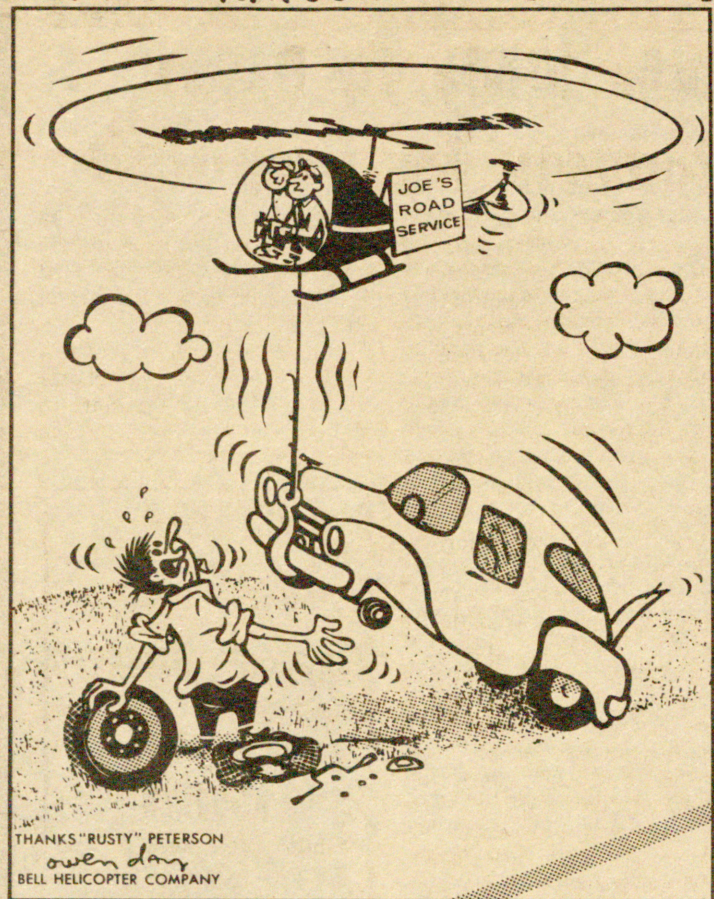

2. The second shift, again I must presume, will start at 1:00 P.M. and will finish at 6:00 P.M. This shift will enable students to either sleep late or arise early and finish their home assignments which they were unable to finish the night before after getting home from school at about 6:30 P.M.

I must also presume that many of the extra curricular activities will be discontinued due to the lack of time and facilities.

Therefore, I strongly urge parents to give serious thought to this very unpleasant situation; tion; it is not too early to start making plans even though one year may seem a sufficient period of time for making plans and arrangements.

You parents who will read this article and will tend to disregard it, please consider the fact that this is by no means an idle threat. The split shift is just as definite as death and taxes, and there is nothing that can alleviate the situation, not for at least two years, even if the bond issue should be approved at the next proposal, about which I have my doubts.

I personally feel that the citizens of our school district are dead set against any improvement at the high school, and as a result I feel it is a waste of time and effort in attempting to help put across any bond issues or tax referendums, as there are too many who are using every available excuse in voting down school bond issues, particularly parents who are displeased and who are blaming the high school, its administrative staff as well as the school board for their own mistakes, and who sadly enough have influenced others.

Hints For Homeowners

JAMES FIZZELL,
ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

Wick-watering may help your house plants fend for themselves when you're away on vacation this summer -- if you can't get someone to water them in your absence. We suggest setting up the wick-watering system several weeks before you plan to leave, just to be sure it works. Here's how to do it:

First, water all plants thoroughly. Submerge the pots up to the rims in tepid water for 15 to 20 minutes, and syringe all foliage except the hairy-leaved types. Then set all pots around a large container of water. The container should be level with or preferably higher than the pots. Or you can use several individual quart bottles of water. Do not use water that has gone through a home-type water softener.

To convey the water from the container to the plants, use lengths of cotton wicking or clothesline (with sizing removed). Cover the middle section of each wick strip with aluminum foil to prevent excessive evaporation. Insert one end of the strip in the water and the other end in the soil of each pot. A two-week supply is about one quart of water for two six-inch pots.

Putting each plant into a polyethylene bag will also help to conserve soil moisture while you are away. Don't completely seal the bags -- allow for some air movement. Keep the bagged plants in bright light, but never in direct sunlight.

While you are making preparations to leave for your vacation, plan to put your yard in good shape. An unkempt yard is a sure sign that the tenants of the home are away and can be an invitation to vandals or prowlers.

Mow and edge your lawn just before you leave. If you plan to be gone more than just a few days have a neighbor mow while you are away. More than likely one of the neighborhood youngsters would be happy to pick up some spare money this way.

Weed the borders and garden. A mulch will help keep weeds down for two weeks or more. Pick off any old and any blooming flowers, and any ripe fruit in the garden. Here again, neighbors will usually be more than willing to keep the flowers and fruit picked while you are gone.

As an added protection have your newspapers and mail delivery stopped and arrange to have lights in the house turned on and off during evening hours. A simple timer can be purchased to do this job.

With these preparations, you can leave on your vacation, free from worry and sure that your home and your plantings too will be safe and secure until you return.

4-H members in southern Cook county will exhibit the results of their project work at the 16th Annual 4-H Fair, to be held Saturday, August 4th at the 4-H grounds in Will county, northeast of New Lenox.

If you are a 4-H family, I am sure this date is already burned in your memory. If you are not a 4-H family, why not mark this date on your calendar and come out and visit the 4-H Fair.

About 130 4-H members from Cook county enjoyed a wonderful week at camp the last week of June. The weather was wonderful, although a bit on the warm side. The heat made the daily swimming sessions a complete delight. In addition to swimming, campers enjoyed nature hikes, sports, crafts, 4-H ceremonies, the return of Chief Shaw-Waw-Nas-See, and wonderful food.

The oat demonstration plots are coming along nicely. A twilight meeting to explain the varieties and their performance was held recently. Demonstration plots in the vegetable areas are beginning to show results.

At this point, might I point out that we very much appreciate the help of farmers who cooperated by allowing us the use of some of their land for demonstration plots and for assisting in planting and caring for these demonstrations.

For best results with recently planted trees, shrubs and evergreens, a University of Illinois landscape horticulturist says to soak the soil at least a foot deep.

It's the time to prune evergreens, and early spring-blooming shrubs and hedges, as well as put the finishing touches on your landscape setting.

About 1,400 4-H Club members and leaders representing every county in the state attended the Illinois State 4-H Club Week program at the University of Illinois, Urbana, June 20-22. Main objectives of the program were to review and discuss 4-H Club project and activity goals in Illinois and to outline career opportunities available to young people.

BY CONGRESSMAN
N. M. MASON
DIFFERENT FARM PROBLEMS -- THE RUSSIAN AND THE AMERICAN: Both Russia and the United States have a farm problem, but they are different problems. Russia is confronted with underproduction while the United States is confronted with overproduction. Russia's problem is how to produce ENOUGH; ours is what to do with TOO MUCH.

Russia has tried regimentation and control over the farmers and the program has failed. But President Kennedy now recommends regimentation and control over the American farmers in order to solve our farm surplus problem. Judging by the results of the program in Russia, Mr. Kennedy's recommendations, if adopted, would bring about a farm product scarcity here. Do we want that? Will the American farmer or the American consumer be better off if such a condition is brought about here?

Our farm problem has been with us for 30 years -- since the Coolidge era. Plan after plan to solve the problem has failed. In his January farm message to the Congress the President pointed out that we have 3 1/2 million American farmers and 1 1/2 million of them produce 87% of our total farm production, leaving 2 million farmers to exist upon 13% of our total farm production.

Rigging the market, government farm subsidies, incentive payments, government storage of farm crops, etc. have all been tried and have failed. The real answer to the so-called farm problem has yet to be found. Perhaps the old McNary-Haugen farm program that President Coolidge vetoed will yet be given a trial. The writer still believes it is a sound and sane plan for the solution of our farm problem.

THE McNARY - HAUGEN FARM PROGRAM: briefly stated, the McNary - Haugen Plan is a two-price system that provides a fair American market price for what the American market requires -- about 90% of our total farm production -- and the world market price for our surplus farm production. It is too bad that plan was never given a trial.

The McNary - Haugen farm plan is based upon the fact that the 10% overproduction of farm products is the factor that depresses the American market. Remove that and you remove the factor that depresses the American market price. To illustrate: -

Farmer Smith grows 1,000 bushels of wheat. Say the American market price is $2.00 per bushel and the world market price is $1.50 per bushel. Farmer Smith sells 900 bushels for $2.00, receiving $1800.00 for that part of his crop. The government takes the surplus 100 bushels off the market, sells it on the world market, and pays Farmer Smith $150.00 for it. Farmer Smith's total receipts for his 1,000 bushels of wheat then would be $1950.00. If the surplus wheat had been permitted to glut the market and beat down the American price, Farmer Smith would have suffered a substantial loss.

The beauty of the McNary-Haugen farm plan is that it costs the American taxpayer nothing, but it does guarantee to the American farmer the American market price for 90% of his crop.

EISENHOWER'S GOLD PROBLEM HAS BECOME KENNEDY'S GOLD CRISIS: President Kennedy inherited a gold problem when he became President. He was critical of that problem in his campaign. Yet his first year's budget spending undid all that Eisenhower had done to solve the gold problem and changed the gold problem into a gold crisis.

We have switched in recent years from a creditor nation into a debtor nation, with a consequent drain upon our gold supply. From a $22 billion gold supply ten years ago we now have a gold supply of $16.6 billion. Against this $16.6 billion gold supply we now owe $18 billion to foreign creditors, and the law requires $11.5 billion in gold as backing for the $33 billion currency now circulating.

What we need and what we must have to insure a stable future economy is: (a) a balanced budget, (b) a favorable balance of trade, and (c) a regular systematic reduction of our national debt.

What will bring about these necessary and desirable national needs? Will the Kennedy Administration with its constantly increasing cost of government solve the gold crisis?

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND
Now that the dust has settled on one of the stock market's sharpest declines, the opinions of some of our better analysts are gaining attention.

Quite a number of well-reputed analysts believe that general business will continue at a good rate thru most of next year, at least.

Recently we have heard some of the popular commentators advising avoidance of "growth stocks." This advice is a little difficult to understand as only a company growing at a rate acceptable in the particular industry, should be considered for investment.

Fortune magazine points out on the basis of government monetary and fiscal policies combined with graduated income tax rates and capital gains tax, an investor can make plowed back earnings and growth, more attractive than large dividends.

One of the leading investment services has published a list of 119 firms which have never shown a loss in earnings. The list is titled "A Group of 119 Blue Ribbon Stocks." These are all well known firms and investment return, on many, is around five per cent. None of the firms has less than twenty five years of existence.

Fortune points out that the stock market is nothing less than the institution thru which the country constantly revalues its industrial assets and does so in terms of their ability to earn a return now and in the future.

This article expresses belief that the shrewd investor is either a large investor with close information or one of those gifted in judging prices of what other people think those stocks are worth -- not as to fundamental values. These stockholders understand and can evaluate psychology of investors and speculators in this highly liquid market, as well as the fundamental values.

The steel price difficulty shocked business as the judging University of Illinois department of agronomy, will become associate director of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station on September 1.

For wet basements, University of Illinois specialists recommend a ring tile around foundations. Also tie in downspouts and leave troughs to lead water away.

of value of its own products, seemed to be passing out of control of business. As to inflation, business desires price stability since it is obviously easier to operate under such conditions. However, students of finance are not likely to believe that inflation can be halted very long.

Fortune expresses opinion that capital expenditures (plant and equipment) will show a marked upturn in the second half of 1963 with a present pace somewhat slower than had been forecast. It is pointed out that growth of capital stock, for some years, has been at the rate of 2.3 per cent per year and the long term growth of the economy has been 4 per cent or over.

The article states that this lack of rise in capital investment must be met in the future. With many other analysts Fortune expresses belief that the repressing effect of the tax structure, has held such investment down. The present change in taxes as to depreciation and other government attitudes are very hopeful signs.

Some business and industry investments will be effected by the drop in the stock market, but usually industrial investment in plant and equipment are made on the basis of their own estimates of the future of that industry and its own growth. Too many examples of industrial difficulties have originated in lagging expansion to meet business increases. Most firms at least think they know what is in store for their industry in the next five or ten years.

The main hurdle to such expansion is the ability to make profits sufficient to finance the expansion. Business would like to hear that the government does not want to control prices. Political figures must avoid admission of a mistake and it would be unrealistic to expect such a statement, but an effort to show, by action, that this is a government interested in seeing business prosper, will aid greatly.

Join Study To Probe Reasons For Drop-Outs

Lincoln-Way high school has been selected to participate in a follow-up study of the students who entered high school in 1954 and 1956. Both students who graduated and those who left before graduation will be included. The Lincoln-Way guidance department will coordinate the study this summer. Questionnaire and interviews will be used.

Need for this type of information is pointed up by recent statistics on 16 and 17 year old dropouts. Last year while 1,500,000 students graduated from high school and 600,000 of those went on to further education, 800,000 16 and 17 year olds were not in school. Many of the drop-outs were unemployed, and many of those who were employed were in low-paying jobs with little future.

With more and more jobs requiring special training, local schools and employers are concerned. The information to be gathered will be of value to school counselors and others concerned with the welfare of youth. They need information to impress upon young people the importance of education and skills in competing for jobs in our complex society.

This project will be conducted by a number of schools scattered thruout the state to find out how Illinois fits into the national picture.

Miss Sandra Oldt has returned home from the University of Illinois where she spent two weeks attending the summer debate workshop. Miss Oldt will be a senior student at Lincoln Way this year.

A Scout committee meeting was held last week, to discuss summer camp for the boy scouts. The boys of troop 41 will spend a week at the Scout Camp at Morris, the latter part of the month.

berg served as manager for a number of years, known as the Will County Greys, came to express their congratulations and good wishes. A picture was shown of the group taken in 1933. Many lovely gifts were received, including a gold decorated tree with 50 gold covered silver dollars.

A special announcement was made by the couples grandson, Ronald Steinberg of his engagement to Miss Marian Fraser of St. Louis, Mo.
